2. Run-on or set-out subheadings

Run-on (saves space)

babies: bathing 311-13, 324; bladder function 318; bowel function 317-18; choking 47; communicating with 296-7, 303-4; crying 327-9; dressing 322-3; dummies 303; emotional and social development 193, 194-6; equipment for 322-5; feeding 298-309, 327 (bottle-feeding 299-303, 324; breast-feeding 298-9; problems 304); fontanelles 81, 86, 318, 328, 330, 378; foot care 321

Set-out (more user-friendly)

babies

- bathing 311-13, 324
- bladder function 318
- bowel function 317-18
- choking 47
- communicating with 296-7, 303-4
- crying 327-9
- dressing 322-3
- dummies 303
- emotional and social development 193, 194-6
- equipment for 322-5
- feeding 298-309, 327
 - bottle-feeding 299-303, 324
 - breast-feeding 298-9
 - problems 304
- fontanelles 81, 86, 318, 328, 330, 378
- foot care 321.

It is possible to have a run-on style with the first subheading set-out and subsequent subheadings run-on.

3. Cross-references before or after subheadings

Run-on before

books (see also stories) 162-8, 212; book areas 166; cultural diversity in 165; for different ages 163-4; fiction and non-fiction 163; illustrations in 164-5; positive and negative images in 165, 269;

Run-on after

books 162-8, 212; book areas 166; cultural diversity in 165; for different ages 163-4; fiction and non-fiction 163; illustrations in 164-5; positive and negative images in 165, 269; see also stories

Before is recommended if there is a long list of subheadings, otherwise after is most usual.

4. Elision of page numbers

Page ranges given in full, or abbreviated:

play

equipment for 127-128, 144-149
and learning 116-120

play

equipment for 127-8, 144-9
and learning 116-20

Pages can be joined by hyphens (as above) or en rules:

play

equipment for 127–8, 144–9

Full pagination is unambiguous, but elided saves space and is very common.

5. Punctuation

a) Before locators

A comma or a double space are normally standard bedtime routines 57 (double space)

bedtime routines, 57

Other punctuation is possible.

b) Before set-out subheadings where main heading has no page references

This can be nothing, or a comma, or a colon.
